Brookhaven promotes two city employees

Brookhaven, GA, Feb. 4, 2013 –Brookhaven announces the promotion of two city employees, Susan Canon and Ben Song.

In addition to her role as Brookhaven Community Development Director, Susan Canon has been promoted to take on additional duties as Brookhaven's Assistant City Manager. She will continue to oversee the city's community development operations while also helping the city manager with daily city operations, including but not limited to staff management, contract executions and other assigned duties by the city manager. Canon has served the City of Brookhaven as the community development director since spring 2013.

Ben Song has been promoted to Brookhaven Community Development Deputy Director. He will assist Susan Canon in overseeing daily community development operations while also managing code enforcement, building services and land development teams. Song joined the City of Brookhaven last year as a planning and zoning manager.

"Ms. Canon and Mr. Song have been dedicated to Brookhaven's success since they joined the city. Their many years of previous experience combined with their insights from time worked in Brookhaven will prove to be invaluable as they step into their new leadership positions." Brookhaven City Manager Marie L. Garrett said.
